

Make an impact. Make a difference. Make a change.

Become a Corporate Trainer with the Binion Consulting Group

A corporate trainer is a specialized skill development position in a corporation where the goal is to help improve the performance of the employees. The performance areas can range from “soft skills” or “people skills” to “hard skills” relating to specific technical tasks. The term is generic and could be applied to nearly any skill whether technical, physical, or otherwise. Also, the role is not solely reserved for corporations. Other organizations such as non-profit groups or government organizations can make use of a corporate trainer’s services. An effective corporation or other organization functions as a system and lack of the skills mentioned above and others can keep the organization from functioning as an effective system, and thus keep the organization and its members from reaching their goals. An effective corporate trainer can remove these impediments and be very valuable to the organization. To effectively support the team, corporate trainers must work as a business partner of the organization they are supporting. In other words, trainers should not operate in a bubble – removed from the realities facing their clients.

What We Offer...

- ❖ Competitive Independent Contractor Opportunities
- ❖ Referral Incentives
- ❖ Training Resources
- ❖ Certification Programs
- ❖ Travel Reimbursement Programs
- ❖ Corporate Travel Discounts

How to Get Started...

- ❖ Submit a Recent Resume and Training video
- ❖ Provide Corporate and Professional References
- ❖ Complete a Corporate Training Evaluation
- ❖ Conduct a Virtual or In Person Interview

If you have the experience, knowledge, and credentials to motivate and inspire others, the EXCEL Center for Innovative Leadership wants you. Contact us today and get started with a rewarding career opportunity. Call us at (313) 368-0240 or email: excel@binionconsulting.com